WILL DECIDE ON TREATY AGREEMENT

Decision of Treaty Will Be Reached in Short Time

WASHINGTON.—Whether the treaty will be able to reach an agreement on a reservation to Article X, of the league of nations covenant, will be decided within a day or two, Senators Saturday predicted.

It is not generally believed the signature of Secretary Lansing, regarding a wide breach between him and the president, will affect the course of the treaty, although "irreconcilable" will try to make the most of it.

Hope of early agreement Saturday centered about two proposals on an Article X reservation submitted to Senator Lodge by Senator Hitchcock Friday. These two proposals, Hitchcock said, indicate the limits to which Democrats are willing to go in compromise on this question.

Lodge Saturday submitted to the Republicans two proposals. He personally declined to commit himself publicly on either proposal. He said the first and most necessary thing to do was to see how many votes the Democratic program could command.

Lodge's friends Saturday pointed out that President Wilson, in his letter to Senator Hitchcock, read in the recent Democratic caucus, said the form of the reservation submitted to him some days earlier by Hitchcock, was unfortunate. This is the first of the two reservations the Democrats have pledged themselves to vote for.

PRESS COMMENT ON RESIGNATION OF SECY LANE

NEW YORK.—New York morning newspaper comment on the resignation of Secretary Lansing follows:

THE TIMES: "The correspondence published Saturday morning fully reveals the long-suspected disharmony. The president had found the secretary not always inclined to observe his wishes and instructions; the secretary had been pained by the scant heed paid to his official counsels. That state of affairs was sufficiently grave, it amply warranted the proffer of, or the demand for, Mr. Lansing's resignation."

WORLD: "The charge of usurpation made by the president against the secretary is without precedent in the history of the executive department and the country will not rest satisfied with the cryptic correspondence between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lansing. There will be a general demand for a bill of particulars to explain the president's extraordinary action."

JOURNAL OF COMMERCE AND COMMERCIAL BULLETIN: "The Lansing episode will be likely to weaken the hold of the executive upon the regard of the people. They will think of a poor reward for activity and service at a very trying time in American history."

THE BOSTON GLOBE: "In such a conflict the president on one side, his subordinate on the other, it is the public interest that one should go. The one to go is not the president."

BUFFALO EXPRESS: "The long self-effacement to which Secretary Lansing has submitted at the hands of President Wilson has reached its natural climax. To all intents Mr. Lansing has been unconsciously kicked out of the state department."

The work of the league for 1920 was declared to be "political education of new women voters (not excluding men)."

Further Disclosures Believed Imminent Saturday In Controversy Between President Wilson and Former Cabinet Member

Expect Full Story of Conflict of Democratic Chiefs to Come to Light During Next Few Days—Will Criticise Wilson

WASHINGTON.—Further disclosures were believed imminent Saturday in the controversy between President Wilson and Robert Lansing, which resulted in the latter's resignation as secretary of state.

Altho Wilson's announced reason for accepting Lansing's resignation was that the secretary had called and presided over cabinet meetings without authorization of the president, prolonged friction over conduct of foreign affairs led up to the final clash, according to the correspondence between Wilson and Lansing, made public Friday night.

The full story of this long-continued conflict between the president and the secretary is expected to come to light during the next few days.

One of the first disclosures, it was learned Saturday, probably will be making public of the letter of resignation of Henry P. Fletcher, former ambassador to Mexico. This letter is understood to be a criticism of Wilson's policy toward Mexico.

Its contents have been withheld, nothing more than a hint as to its character being permitted to leak out since its submission some time ago. Fletcher is understood to have favored the attitude toward Mexico which Lansing took during the negotiations over imprisonment of William O. Jenkins, consular agent.

This attitude was changed later, supposedly at the instance of the president, and the exchange of notes with Mexico ceased.

A number of congressmen Saturday were seeking means of bringing the Wilson-Lansing clash before the house or senate for discussion. No leader in either branch of congress, however, appeared anxious to take the initiative in such a move. It was considered likely discussion might break out if the president sends to the senate his nomination of a successor to Lansing, while still as keen as it appeared Saturday.

Frank L. Polk, under-secretary of state, Saturday took up the work of acting secretary. He was considered a likely candidate for Lansing's office, but it was believed probable Wilson would not send the nomination to the senate for several weeks, unless he welcomes open discussion of the whole situation on the floor of congress.

It was learned Saturday from an authoritative source that the ill-feeling between Wilson and Lansing began while they were in Paris. When Wilson came back to Washington the first time, he left Lansing to carry on the work of negotiating peace. Upon Wilson's return to Paris, it was learned he disagreed with many of the proceedings which had been participated in by Lansing, as well as by Colonel House. But he left Lansing in Paris again when he returned to America, after the German treaty was signed. Later, however, he recalled him and sent Polk to Paris to take his place.

The hostility between Wilson and Lansing, however, was not the only thing that was authoritatively learned, while the president was on his tour of the country, speaking in behalf of the treaty ratification last September. While the president was on that journey, William C. Bullitt, a member of the American peace committee, testifying before the senate foreign relations committee concerning the peace negotiations and his mission to Russia, made the following statement:

"That just before he left Paris for the United States, Lansing, in conversation with him, said in effect that neither the senate nor the American people would approve the treaty if they knew what it 'let them in for.'"

Lansing has never categorically denied making such a statement to Bullitt.

Lansing himself was questioned by the committee regarding the letter in which he, General Bliss and Henry White, protested to President Wilson against the Shantung decision. He said that he did not regard the letter as a protest, but declined to give the committee its contents.

After this Bullitt testimony, when Wilson returned to Washington he did not see Lansing, and altho he saw other cabinet members during his convalescence, Lansing never was received, it was learned. This condition prevailed even during the Mexico crisis which arose over imprisonment of Jenkins.

It was stated, that being unable to consult the president, Lansing went ahead and formulated his own Mexican policy.

Then followed the diplomatic correspondence between Lansing and the Mexican foreign office, which steadily became more sarcastic in belief of many observers, until Wilson stepped into the situation. Even then, it was learned, he did not receive the secretary. This episode between Wilson and Lansing, it was stated, "I am not going to discuss the Lansing-Wilson controversy." Secretary Tumulty said at the White House.

It was learned at the White House that there will be no more cabinet meetings until the president himself calls one and presides over it. Tumulty said the president would call a meeting for the latter part of next week. This will be the first time the president has appeared at a cabinet session since before he went on his speaking tour last September.

The statement that there will be more cabinet meetings because of the unauthorized meetings, was taken in some quarters as an indication that Lansing's calling of such meetings was not the sole reason of his clash with the president. It is known that Tumulty himself has taken part in some of these meetings and that other cabinet officials had suggested the meetings when they had anything to talk over with their fellow members.

Congress is without power to investigate the dismissal of Lansing, but it can investigate if it wishes, the condition of America's foreign policy in the opinion of Senator Knox, Pennsylvania, himself a former secretary of state.

"So far as change in the president's official family are concerned, he has a perfect right to make these changes as he sees fit."

President Wilson's attitude toward Lansing was characterized by Representative Stephen G. Porter, chairman of the house foreign affairs as being "almost harsh."

Polk entered his duties as acting secretary Saturday with a conference with newspaper men. Lansing did not appear at his office Saturday. It is believed he will leave soon for his home in Watertown, N. Y., for a long rest.

ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO SUPPLY ENORMOUS DEMAND FOR TANLAC

Although Huge Laboratories Turn Out 36,000 Bottles Daily Thousands of Dealers Cannot Be Supplied.

40 CARLOADS SOLD IN JANUARY ALONE

After Shipping 838,400 Bottles of Celebrated Medicine In One Month Factory Is Still 380,000 Behind With Orders.

Although the big Tanlac laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, and Walkerville, Canada, have been running at top speed for months, it has been a physical impossibility to supply the phenomenal and ever increasing demand for this celebrated medicine.

During the first ten weeks of last year One Million Three Hundred and twenty-seven thousand bottles of Tanlac were sold, breaking all World's record for the sale of proprietary medicines up to that time. This record now pales into insignificance, however, as orders received during January alone of this year reached the astonishing total of One Million Two Hundred and Twenty Thousand bottles, showing an increase of approximately one hundred per cent over the corresponding period of 1919.

To say that Tanlac now has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world expresses it mildly. It does not begin to tell the story—for no other preparation has ever even approached the marvelous record that is now being made by Tanlac; and it is now conservatively estimated that the sales for the present year alone will amount to from seven to ten million bottles.

Of the orders received during January it was possible to ship only eight hundred and thirty-eight thousand bottles, and thousands of dealers scattered throughout the United States and Canada have been unable to obtain the medicine for weeks.

"Phenomenal and Bewildering" is the way one of the big drug jobbers of the country describes the marvelous demand for Tanlac.

"We know that the day of miracles has passed, and we all know that there are no unattractable mysteries in the drug business, but this Tanlac proposition smacks of both."

Writes another leading wholesale druggist, whose firm has sold over 24 car loads, or an average of nearly one car load per month since they began handling Tanlac a few years ago.

Thousands of similar letters and telegrams have been received, but for lack of space they can only be referred to briefly.

Most proprietary medicines are sold by the dozen or by the gross; a few are bought by the trade in quantities of from ten to twenty gross; a very few are sold by the car load, and then only to the largest jobbers. The fact therefore, that Tanlac is sold in car loads, and that it has been used for years, and has sold more than one million bottles, is a record that is almost unheard of.

Tanlac is composed of the most beneficial roots and herbs known to the scientific world. The formula conforms with all National and State Pure Food and Health Laws of both the United States and Canada, and although Tanlac claims for superiority are abundantly supported by leading authorities, it is the people themselves who have made Tanlac what it is. Millions upon millions have used it and have told other millions what it has done for them.

That is why Tanlac has become the real sensation of the drug trade all over America.

Tanlac is sold in Lima at Hunter's drug stores and the leading druggists in every town.

NEURALGIA CAUSED MONTHS OF MISERY

Days and nights of pain are only a memory now for Mrs. Charles Hendry, of No. 1035 Adams avenue, Scranton, Pa. Seeing her today it is hard to believe she had been on the verge of invalidism from neuralgia.

"When seen at her home Mrs. Hendry was very willing to tell about her experience, especially when it was pointed out to her that others might be spared suffering by learning how she overcame the disease.

"How long did you suffer from neuralgia?" Mrs. Hendry was asked. "Ten long years," she answered. "The pain would come on at certain hours every day and the muscles of my face would swell. I was nearly distracted by the pains. I had terrible headaches, my ears would ache and I would be up night after night putting applications on my face. My whole head was sore from the pain.

"I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anemia when I was a girl in my teens in Scotland and when one of my friends told me a few months ago that the pills were good for neuralgia, I gave them a trial. After I had taken the remedy a couple of weeks I didn't have so much pain and the periods between the attacks were of longer duration. This was so encouraging that I took the pills for three months and I haven't had an attack since.

"I am very grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I no longer have my face pained, swelling of the face, nor headache and I can go to bed now knowing that I am going to get a good night's sleep."

Rabbit Maranville

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The Giant owners, as usual, are very busy trying again to buy a pennant. And one of the big league stars now sought to plug a weak spot in the Giant machine is Rabbit Maranville, according to reports. On the face of it the report sounds fishy. The Braves lost money and prestige last year. Those who know President Grant are inclined to doubt that with the situation as it is, he would sell his greatest star. But, be that as it may.

Maranville would add speed and pep to the Giant team as well as strengthen its infield defence. The little New Englander has been with Boston since that club obtained him from New Bedford in the New England league in 1912. He had been playing with the New Bedford club a season and a half. He was born in Springfield, Mass., Nov. 11, 1892. While the rabbit undoubtedly is naturally a great star, it is doubtful if he ever would have been quite as brilliant a star as he is had it not been for Johnny Evers. Fandom is agreed that "The Crab" is one of the brainiest, fightingest players in the game. Playing second alongside Maranville, Evers injected his pep into the youngsters and taught him the fine points of the game as only Evers knows them.

The summary:

Total 54.
DAYTON: P. Schlenger, 11; R. Taylor, 11; H. Herschberg, 11; M. Mahrt, 11.

WOULD RESTORE DRAFT RULE

Restoration of the draft and formation of a board to handle cases between majors and the minors is expected to be arranged for Friday at the meeting of the big league heads at Chicago.

At Thursday's meeting plans were presented for formation of a board consisting of four men, two from the minors and two from majors, with a neutral chairman. This body, according to plans would handle all cases between the major and lesser leagues.

The minor league magnates at Thursday's meeting requested but little of the grand moguls other than that they wished the draft rule restored and wished to be represented in the board.

WOULD SIGN THREE MEN FOR FIGHT

RACINE, Wis.—John Wagner, local fight promoter, is about to institute an innovation in the staging of boxing shows by a plan which provides for the signing of the articles of agreement by a third boxer, who is to act as a possible substitute for either principal if needed. Wagner has had three shows cancelled within as many months because of the inability of one of the boxers to perform. He declares the substitute boxer will be obliged to post forfeits to be in fighting condition at the ringside on the night of the bout, and will be given the same guarantees as the principals.

LET JACKSON GET MORE-COMISKY

CHICAGO.—Joe Jackson has returned his contract to President Comiskey of the White Sox, unsigned. He wants $15,000 a season, according to reports.

"Liberal terms were named in Jackson's contract, but if he can make more money in some other work, that's his own affair," said Comiskey.

EASY MEAT

The Central Hi seconds set an example for the regulars by overwhelming South seconds 33 to 8 in the preliminary game at Central gymnasium Friday night.

It was a complete walk-away for Central. At the end of the first half they had piled up an 18 to 2 shade. The sensational shooting of Boserker, Central's baby-sized forward, proved the feature of the game. Siferd was the high-point man for South. This is the second straight victory that the Central subs have scored over South's. The line-ups were as follows:
CENTRAL SUBS: Boserker, R. F., Burke, Kahle, L. G., Siferd, Taylor, R. G., Hughes, DeVoe, L. G., Ireland.

VAUDEVILLE

ORPHEUM.—In addition to miniature musical comedy and big time vaudeville, there will be presented as an added attraction at the Orpheum theatre Sunday only, Bessie Love, the adorable little movie star, in the delightful romance, "Cupid Foreclosed," produced in six wonderful reels of youth and love and joyousness. The miniature musical comedy on this program is presented by "The All American Girls," and is a delicious morsel of frothy entertainment in which is featured Hal Hoyt, the celebrated comedian, who created the comic opera role of "Mutt" from But Fisher's newspaper cartoon of "Mutt and Jeff." The vaudeville acts on this bill are Drury and Sauls, former stars of miniature; the La Vine Trio, in a sensational novelty, the only one of its kind that has come to Lima this year; Cordini, world renowned piano accordionist, who will set your feet tapping and shoulders swaying with syncopated and classical selections; Bud and Jessie Gray, who combine skill and laughter in the performance of amazing feats upon wheeled devices of almost every conceivable variety.

REGENT

The last call has gone out to prospective auditors of Anita Stewart's First National success, "In Old Kentucky," showing at the popular Regent for the final times today. The photoplay has had most successful run in Lima, truly duplicating its success in other cities and creating a generous amount of enthusiasm. "The Land of Opportunity," an Abraham Lincoln subject, emphasizing Americanism is also to be seen for the last time. Have you not already been fortunate in seeing these attractions you had best do so at an early exhibition today. Will Rogers scores again. The hero of "Almost a Husband" and "Jumbo" will be seen in Lima Sunday and Monday in his newest hit, "Water, Water Everywhere." The subject deals with prohibition. It is neither propaganda or preachment. It is simply pure, 100 per cent entertainment. It holds no brief for prohibition; neither does it espouse the cause of the "wet." Regardless of personal sentiments this play hilariously entertains. People are going to love Will Rogers as "Billy Fortune" just as they have loved his previous characterizations. If you are not yet acquainted with him you'd better meet him Sunday and Monday. For you simply can not know a fellow like Rogers too well. And the more you see of him the better you like him. And there are six of the prettiest girls in support.

port of Rogers in this photoplay. There's six other reasons. More could be given. Constance Talmadge has scored an even greater hit with her new picture, "A Virtuous Vamp." That's going some. Folks just can't keep from loving this girl. All the world has fallen for her. The picture is piquant, peppery, spicy and juicy without overstepping. It will be served deliciously at the Regent next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.
"MALE AND FEMALE"
This is the final day of "Male and Female" at the Faurot and Lima picturegoers, many of whom have seen this superb photoplay several times, will witness its departure with genuine regret. All agree that Mr. DeMille has made this adaptation of the Barrie comedy one of the most spectacular and absorbingly interesting film productions thus far given to the screen. From every point of view "Male and Female" is great entertainment, yet amid all its magnificence of scene and costume, its deft touches of comedy, the superb acting of one of the best stars ever assembled in one picture, one cannot but see something vastly more important—that "A man's a man for a' that." The old saying is aptly illustrated in this story of the Butler who made himself King among Peers.
If you have not already seen "Male and Female," do not let tonight's final opportunities escape. You'll enjoy every foot of the eight reels of this screen masterpiece.

AS YOU LIKE IT

TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Dear Sir:

We have read with much joy
Your many assurances
That you have caused a Lowering in the cost of living
We have been reading
These things some time
And every time we have Run across an official Statement of the price
Of food has taken a slump.
We have hastened to the shops
Only to find that the butcher,
The baker and the Candlestick maker
Don't seem to read the papers.
Can't you find some law
Somewhere on the statutes
Which will force all trades men
To read the newspapers?
Especially the ones
By the food authorities.
Which tell us how much Cheaper things are than
They were during the war?

MY PAIR

The older one, his hair is brown.
The younger kid's hair is red.
O all the youngsters in my town
They are the chosen ones, I say.
And they are having up and down
From dawn till time for bed.

They hang the cat up by the tail
They've done it more than once
And every one, without fail,
They're pulling off new stunts.
The man who comes with meat or mail
Is met with wild affairs.

I wouldn't take ten millions for
That headshot of her brother
But I wouldn't give a nickel for Another.

MARCEL STEINBRIGGE SAYS:

Dear Roy: Journalists of your caliber can do much to fight the wave of superstition which has become a national pest.
A woman's second husband is going to have a hard time in the future if the woman can communicate with her "dear departed." Imagine the wife saying to her present spouse
when he comes home:

"I know where you spent the afternoon! You were 'jazzing' with a blonde. Alfred told me at the meeting today!"

Will cases can easily be decided in court from now on. All you have to do is to engage a medium—at a large fee—and make him communicate with the men who made the will.

We see that five great pianists,
Godevsky, Ornstein, Levitzki, Moise-witsch and Rubinstein, will play on one program which leads us to wonder once again if it may be the name of Jones. (Takes Smith or Binks ever learns to play any sort of musical instrument.)

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is a fortunate day.
If a lucky rule for love affairs
and engagements entered into today
will have a happy augury.

There is indication of military activity, but the crisis will not likely be serious.

Plays and plays will prosper under this rule, according to the stars.
Warning is again given against evil reports and propaganda which will seriously affect women.

Persons whose birthday this is will likely have a year of stress when it will be best in pursuing routine.

Children born on this day will be generous and impulsive and chance-ful.

1,000,000 FRENCH GIRLS

WE HOPE FLOYD GIBBONS is right in saying that French girls would come to the United States if they had a chance and enter domestic service, says the Chicago Tribune. France has lost over a million young men and consequently over a million girls find their normal expectancies of settlement in life defeated. The French are tenacious in family, home and country, and many of these girls will prefer home industries to foreign domesticity, but if the United States can get them it will be a national benefit.

THEY MAY COME as domestics, but they will not remain domestics. They will improve our domestic situation for the time being, and that is worth while, although it is the minor consideration. Many of the girls will marry in the United States, establish their own homes and raise their own families.

IF WE OBTAINED a million of them and if the million married American citizens we should introduce the French strain into the American composition. It is a strain we have missed and one which we need. We have hardly tapped that vein of European life.

THE UNITED STATES would be the better for an infusion of French cooking, manners, tenacity, thrift, family partnership, etc. A million French girls of the home-making type might temper our extravagance, modify our exuberance, improve our tables and polish up our manners.

HOW ABOUT KNOCKING off a billion of the debt for a million French girls?

PRACTICAL PATRIOTISM

PASSIONATE, idealistic devotion to country is in no danger of dying in England if recent events are taken as indicating the quality of patriotism which moves wealthy citizens of the kingdom, says the Toledo Blade.

A FEW MONTHS AGO a wealthy Briton, who concealed his identity under the initials "F. S. T.," announced his intention of surrendering twenty per cent of his large fortune to the national exchequer. Now another rich Englishman signs a communication to the Times "A. M." and announces that he proposes to contribute toward the reduction of the national debt
a substantial part of his wealth—about $600,000.

HE SAYS THAT his object is to encourage others and that he feels that he owes his country something in the nature of an insurance premium as Great Britain's war expenditures served to preserve his fortune. He further declares that he is prompted by the fact that, although "toll has been taken by the young men of my blood, I have been denied the privilege of giving my country direct personal service in connection with the war through no fault of my own."

MODEST, DIGNIFIED AND PATRIOTIC is such an expression of gratitude and love of country. Practical and substantial expressions of loyalty and devotion to the empire such as this demonstrate the strength of Britain's hold upon her sons.

MISS LIMA: "Not that women are smoking, maybe Christmas cigars will be found a little better quality."

TOO GOOD

A NOVEL GREATLY PRAISED this winter is about a genius who scorns what the public thinks of his painting, and makes no effort to interest others in it.

A CONSIDERABLE NUMBER of living painters, poets, composers and playwrights share that attitude. They take a perverse satisfaction in the fact that their work does not appeal to the public. They like to imagine it is "too good."

A FEW MAY BE justified. These are the few who believe that appreciation is to come later, and only is delayed.

THE OTHERS MISS the vital truth that the book which isn't read, or the musical composition which isn't played might as well not exist.

Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

A Message to Mothers

YOU know the real human doctors right around in your neighborhood:
the doctors made of flesh and blood just like you: the doctors with souls and hearts: those men who are responding to your call in the dead of night as readily as in the broad daylight: they are ready to tell you the good that Fletcher's Castoria has done, is doing and will do, from their experience and their love for children.

Fletcher's Castoria is nothing new. We are not asking you to try an experiment. We just want to impress upon you the importance of buying Fletcher's.

Your physician will tell you this, as he knows there are a number of imitations on the market, and he is particularly interested in the welfare of your baby.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Dr. H. H. Fletcher

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Really and cheaply made at home,
but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts
a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loos-ens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreadful cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.
Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded.

"I Had to Lose Him to Appreciate Him!"

This was the wretched realization in the mind of Geraldine Meredith. Now that, through her neglect, her husband had filled his life with other interests, she knew how dearly she loved him.

And it was too late to win him back! She was sure of that. At first he had asked of life only a little home with her in it—and now that she was willing to give up boarding and go to housekeeping, he was absorbed with those out-side interests
into which he had plunged to forget his discontent.

It was a tangle too great for Geraldine to smooth out. She saw nothing ahead but ruin—each one going his own way, he indifferent, she wretched. And it was all her fault. She knew that.

Does a man never forgive a pretty and contrite
young wife such as Geraldine and find in her once more the woman of his dreams, in a case like this?
Read and find out. "The Woman Who Loved —And Earned" will start in this paper on the Editorial Page of the Sunday News.

Three years ago
I lost a child

badly that I was out

help me and one day I told my husband that I could not stand the pain any longer and sent him to the drug-store to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pink-the doctor's medicine away. After taking three bottles of Vegetable Com-

GRAIN FUTURES CRAWL UP

Finished Higher in Chicago Board of Trade Saturday

CHICAGO — Grain futures behaved in an irregular manner on the board of trade. Despite the lowering of cash grain quotations, futures crawled up and finished higher than the opening. The Lansing resignation, expected to have a lowering effect on the stock market, which would be reflected in commodities, failed to exert that influence. Traders were cautious, having sold heavily in the last two weeks and lead in further sales by inaccurate reports of heavy Argentine exports, were inclined to ease up Saturday.

February corn opened off 1-2 at 1.39, and later gained 1-4. March opened up late at 1.39 3-4 and later jumped 1-4. May opened off 1-8 at 1.32 1-2 and later recovered 7-8. July 1-2 1-2 and later recovered 1-2 and later registered a 7-8 gain.

May oats opened up 3-8 at .80, later jumping 4-4, July opened up 1-2 at .72, later taking a 3-4 rise.

Provisions were generally higher.
